ALL SORTS.

The Caledonia picnic will take place to-morrow at Treadway's Park.

There was a lively "scrap" on Carson street yesterday. No arrests.

George Hark has some fine meats at his shop, opposite the capitol.

Warren J. Sheridan went out to Pine Nut yesterday in company with a capitalist.

A dispatch from San Francisco states that J. R. Vail died there yesterday afternoon.

John Palmer, of New York, has been elected Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R.

Harry Clawson, formerly manager of the Depot Hotel in Reno, is dying in San Francisco.

There is a man in town who claims to have such a powerful grip that he can make pig iron squeal.

Willie Murphy, a Genoa sprinter, writes from Sacramento that he won a footrace, beating the 11-second man ten feet.

The engine and boiler in the old steam laundry were taken apart yesterday and will be shipped to the new creamery in Carson Valley today.

The United States Signal Service will establish weather bureaus at Wabuska, Hawthorne, Bendville and Bishop Creek before many months.

Chas. Bush, a forger, escaped from the Nevada jail yesterday. The officers have telegraphed in every direction for the culprit and it is expected that he will soon be captured.

Senator Williams' stable of race horses have been shipped to take part in the races at Willows, Red Bluff, Chico and Woodland. Sweeney's horses, Gibber and Alpheus, were also shipped.

The Pine Nut mines are attracting great attention all over the country. The stage returned from that place yesterday empty. No one seems ready to come back, while many are going to the new camp.

As the close season for ducks and other game is nearing a close, it would be a good idea for some of our local sportsmen to combine and employ some one to stay on the meadows and report any one killing game before the 1st of September.

One of the four prisoners who were arrested for robbing the Dayton Wells Fargo office, is now in the dungeon at the State Prison. He has been very mean and obstreperous since his incarceration, and had been hung up by his hands for a while, before being put in the dungeon.

Mrs. Browder of Downeyville, Nye county, has written a letter to her brother in Virginia City asking him to send 50 rounds of ammunition, as the Indians in her neighborhood are getting very insolent. There are not over half a dozen people living in Downeyville, and they are far removed from other settlements—Enter price.

Melbourne, the Ohio rain maker, wants the United States Government to pay him $1,000,000 for his rain-making machine, which, he says, is cheap at that price. He says the machine which he uses is not larger than a common stove, and that the rain is produced by the liberation of gas generated from chemicals. He says he can transform deserts into lakes by means of his invention.

Oliver Roberts has been showing some Pine Nut rock in San Francisco. A morning paper of that city says the specimens shown are exceedingly rich, especially that from the original vein. It was a crumbling brown dust, impossible to adequately illustrate, but full of flake gold. During the day a number of Comstock men called on Mr. Roberts, among them being Lon Hamilton and T. B. Riekey. Their verdict was: "All you want of that dirt is enough of it."

The True Facts.

The true facts attendant upon the resignation of Jerry Piper as a guard at the State Prison have just come to light. It appears that the prisoners were in the dining-room and Piper was in the cage that runs out into the room, and where religious services are held. He was on watch, and one of the convicts asked him to come close to the cage, as he desired to speak to him. When Jerry got within reach the man grabbed him and drew a murderous-looking knife, threatening to kill Piper if he gave the alarm. Jerry struggled bravely, however, and finally broke away and gave the alarm. Fearing that he would be killed by the convict on the first opportunity, he resigned his position. In all probability they intended to overpower Piper and secure the keys. Seven files were found in their possession.

These are the facts as near as an APPEAL reporter was able to gather them.

A Novel Race.

A race that takes the cake for novelty is to be run in Cheyenne next month. 'Tis a pity it isn't nearer home, so some of our local sports could enter. We will venture to say they would get away with the beer and sandwich, though a cigarette would probably be more acceptable than the cigar. The conditions of the race are as follows: Before "go" is given each rider is sent back 100 yards from the starting pole. When the signal is given the race commences and each rider leads his horse to the judges' stand, saddles his horse, raises an umbrella and starts. At the end of the first quarter the rider dismounts, eats a sandwich, drinks a glass of beer or water, remounts his horse, and he who first reaches the starter with umbrella up and cigar burning wins the race. Silver State.

"You Didn't Lose Me, Johnny" Night before last, just after John Sweeney had retired at his ranch, near Carson, he heard a noise in the direction of his stable, and, thinking one of his fast horses had broken loose, he got up and dressed himself and went out to investigate. On reaching the stable, he was surprised to find that his fast trotter, Hattie S., had slipped her halter at Steamboat and come home. John wants to bet that she traveled every mile of the way better than 2.45.

False Economy

Is practiced by many people who buy inferior articles of food because cheaper than standard goods. Surely infants are entitled to the best food obtainable. It is a fact that the Gail Borden "Eagle" Brand Condensed Milk is the best infant food. Your grocer and druggist keep it. 2t

Brigg's Hotel.

Gilbert Briggs, proprietor of the St. Charles, has set about remodeling and improving the house on a large scale. The place formerly occupied by Dan Couillard as a saloon will be turned into a dining room, after enlarging the same, and what is now the dining room will be a billiard and pool parlor. The name of the place will be changed to Brigg's Hotel.

Majestic Wears the Belt.

New York, August 5.—The Ohio State steamer Majestic, which left Liverpool July 29, arrived here this morning, thus breaking the record from Queenstown to New York. Her time was five days, 18 hours and eight minutes. She beat the record by 57 minutes.

Three of a Kind.

Gilbert Briggs, who runs the St. Charles, and his two brothers who are visiting him weigh together 633 pounds, an average of 211 pounds each. If they stay at the St. Charles longer they will weigh a good deal more.

Not In It.

Phil Michels and Bob Davis, who rowed a boat around the lake shore from Glenbrook to Bellevue on Tuesday, were feeling pretty blue at last accounts. They anchored the boat off Bellevue Tuesday night, and in the morning it was nowhere to be seen. A cable had been blowing during the night and the boat probably dragged her anchor and was blown across the lake. They have decided to sleep in the boat after this—if they find it.

Supreme Court Clerk Josephus has been rusticated at Santa Cruz, but will return and attend the Caledonia picnic to-morrow.

It galls some people to see others succeed. They lose sleep thinking about it. But then, all wance should be made for the success of one whose life has been a series of disappointments from the beginning. Sabe?

A. A. Wastle, California, paper hanging on the fact that the California State Treasurer had refused to pay the bounty on coyote scalps, says: "If this be true we will not send the Argus editor's scalp down just yet, but will let it hang on our back fence awhile longer."
